Instructional Guidance

NOTE: Before presenting this lesson, instructors must thoroughly prepare by studying this lesson and identified reference material.

Before class--

- Read and study all TSP material and be ready to conduct the class.
- This TSP has questions throughout to check learning to generate discussion among the group members. Add any questions you deem necessary to bring a point across to the group or expand on the subject matter.
- You must know the information in this TSP well enough to teach from it, not read from it.
- Determine where you will conduct the PE, either in the classroom or in the barracks.

During class--

- Conduct the class in accordance with this TSP.

After class--

- Collect all recoverable materials after the examination for this lesson.

Motivator

As we start this lesson on proper wear of the uniform, you should know that according to AR 670-1 (SH-2), it is the commander's responsibility to ensure that military personnel under his command present a neat and soldierly appearance. The duty of ensuring proper personal grooming and wear of the uniform belongs to the noncommissioned officer. It is also the duty of each individual soldier to take pride in his own uniform and appearance at all times. This instills pride and esprit de corps within one's self and unit.

In the earliest times of recorded history, soldiers wore distinctive items of clothing and equipment to set them apart from the common people or civilian noncombatants. Traditionally, uniforms and accessories were easily recognizable and they readily identified the individual as a soldier.

Maintaining the uniform appearance and grooming standards of our soldiers has always concerned the Army. The public's initial perception of you is by how you look. A soldier that looks good in their uniform tells a lot about the discipline of the individual and pride they have in their unit and the Army.

Terminal Learning Objective

NOTE: Inform the students of the following Terminal Learning Objective requirements.
At the completion of this lesson, you [the student] will:

Action:	Ensure personal grooming, proper fit, and correct wear of the Army uniform(s).
Conditions:	As a squad leader given a squad of soldiers in a classroom environment and AR 670-1 (SH-2).
Standards:	Ensured personal grooming, proper fit, and correct wear of the Army uniform(s) by-- <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • identifying standards for basic grooming and personal appearance, • identifying guidelines for “good fit and appearance” of Army uniforms, • identifying the appropriate wear and appearance of the Army green service uniform, • identifying the appropriate wear and appearance of temperate and hot weather battle dress uniforms, • preparing the Army green service uniform for inspection, IAW AR 670-1 (SH-2).

Evaluation

You will take a written examination. The examination will contain questions from this lesson. You must correctly answer at least 70 percent of the questions on the examination to receive a GO. Failure to achieve a GO on the examination will result in a retest. Failure on the retest could result in your dismissal from the course.

Instructional Lead-In

You are an American soldier. You are a warrior and a member of a team. You serve the people of the United States and live the Army Values. You always place the mission first. You never accept defeat. You never quit. You never leave a fallen comrade. You are disciplined, physically and mentally tough, trained, and proficient in your warrior task and drills. You always maintain your individual weapons, equipment, and yourself. You are an expert and you are a professional. You stand ready to deploy, engage, and destroy the enemies of the United States of America in close combat. You are a guardian of freedom and the American way of life. By wearing your uniform correctly and maintaining a well-groomed appearance, you demonstrate the warrior ethos. You show your fellow soldiers and civilians that you are an American soldier, that you are part of the Army team, and that you are proud to serve your country by living the Army values.

During this lesson we will discuss what “good fit and appearance” of Army uniforms means and the appropriate wear and appearance of the basic Army uniforms to include--

- Standards for basic grooming and personal appearance.
 - The Army green service uniform(s).
 - The temperate and hot weather battle dress uniform.
